Music resources from www.traditionalmusic.co.uk For personal educational purposes only

My Savior
Charles M. Fillmore, 1902.

I've a Savior, kind and tender,
I've a Savior full of grace;
And a smile of winning sweetness
Ever beams upon His face:
In my heart's shrine of affection
He shall hold the highest place.

Refrain

How I love Him! How I love Him!
Since for me He bled and died;
How I love Him! Yes, I love Him
More than all the world beside.

For my sake He came from Heaven
To this world of sin and shame;
Bore my guilt, tho' He was guiltless,
And tho' blameless, took my blame:
Can I ever cease to love Him,
And His goodness to proclaim?

Refrain

Tho' I've often been unworthy,
He has constant been, and true;
Tho' I wronged Him, He forgave me
When I would my vows renew;
Tho' I spurned Him, He with kindness
My rebellious heart did woo.

Refrain

I've a Savior, kind and tender,
He would be your Savior, too;
Will you not accept the pardon
Which He freely offers you?
Take Him now as your Redeemer,
Earth has not a friend so true.

Refrain

For personal educational purposes only Music resources from www.traditionalmusic.co.uk