Recorded by Lester Flatt and Earl Scruggs

Written by Harlan Howard

^G There's an iron curtain darling that's ^Cbetween your heart and mine
^{D7} And it seems it's getting stronger all the ^Gtime
^C You don't want me you don't need me but I'll keep on hanging 'round
^{D7} For I know someday my love will tear that iron curtain ^Gdown

^C Don't be afraid to love me for I ^Gswear that it will last
^{A7} Darling is it fair to judge me by someone in your ^{D7}past
^G You don't want me you don't need me but I'll keep on hangin' 'round ^C
^{D7} For I know someday my love will tear that iron curtain ^Gdown

^C Someone's hurt you in the past dear and the memories lingers on ^{D7} But to live your life in darkness is a ^Gshame
^C If you'll only let me love you soon your heartaches will be gone
^{D7} Let my loving arms become your iron curtain from now on ^G
